THEME OF THE FACULTY DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMME

Learning and remaining learned is ever a joyful lifelong virtue and experience. The art of learning the knowledge of research and methodology is unique as it accords intellectual self-respect and ensures societal contribution. The art of visualization of research encompasses many attributes of human thinking and realization process. By the experience of systematic reading and writing one acquires the ability to visualize the subject matter of research more within. It is an inner perception. Definitely, it is an unparalleled experience in human life during the journey of intense research. The researcher starts to feel, distinguishes the nature of knowledge based information. Moreover, the ethical dimensions overtakes the sensory reactions and gives the researcher the standpoint to promote truth and forbid falsity. The purpose of every research in the human sense is to sensitize the researcher towards realization and reflection on the problems of the needy as a matter of reality. For every researcher's life originates, depends and sustains due to the necessity based responsibility to fulfill the unattended requirements of the human family, which involves other life forms as well, as universal natural companions.
